

Pictons Sponsors Stockwood Park Rugby Club

Leading regional law firm Pictons has been sponsoring Stockwood Park Rugby Club this season, adding another organisation to its already substantial list of community projects, charities and local sports that it supports.

Sukh Saini, Managing Partner of Pictons Solicitors says “Stockwood Park Rugby Club is a great local sports club which offers facilities to local rugby players from the ages of six to 55 years old. We think that sports are a very unifying force in any local community and we already sponsor Luton Town Football Club and Luton’s amateur boxing champion Jordan Reynolds.

“The benefits to the people who play and to the local community are enormous and we are delighted to be in a position to give Stockwood Park Rugby Club our support.”

The Club has three senior sides, from ages 17 to 55, of which the first team is in the Midland Three East (South) League. The thriving Mini & Youth section ranging from six to 18 years of age meet on Sundays. There is also a ladies team at the club that meet on a Thursday night.

Alan Casemore Stockwood Park Rugby Club Manager says “We would find it very difficult to survive without sponsorship and we are very grateful to all our sponsors, particularly our main ones Pictons, Mazars and AD Bly for their support. I have done many jobs at the club including as a skipper and also as fixture secretary. Like everyone connected to the Club I am passionate and totally committed to its success and companies like Pictons really help us to succeed.”
